

History of Tea

Tea is so much a part of our everyday life in Britain; it's hard to think that this unique plant came from faraway China. The story of tea began in China in 2737BC with a Chinese Emperor sitting under a tree drinking boiling water when some leaves blew into the water. The Emperor tried the infusion and this resulted in the drink becoming tea.

Tea was unknown in England until the 17th Century with the marriage of Charles II to Catherine of Braganza, the Portuguese Princess who was known for her 'tea' addiction. Tea at this time could only be afforded by the Royals and Upper-class, thus tea smuggling became common place.

The fashion of afternoon tea didn't start until 1840 with the Seventh Duchess of Bedford. She would get hungry at around four o'clock in the afternoon and needed something between lunch and dinner. It started off as a simple cup of tea and a slice of bread and butter.

Home House itself has played a part in the history of Tea. Charles, 2nd Earl Grey occupied the property from 1809-1820. According to the Grey family, Earl Grey tea was specially blended by a Chinese mandarin for Lord Grey, to suit the water at Howick Hall, the family home in Northumberland, using bergamot in particular to offset the predominance of lime in the local water. Lady Grey used it to entertain in her London home, Home House, as a political hostess. It proved so popular that she was asked if it could be sold to others.

Afternoon Tea

Served daily from 3pm to 6pm

Traditional Afternoon Tea

£34

Served with a tea of your choice

Champagne Afternoon Tea

£45

*Served with a tea of your choice
and a glass of Moët & Chandon*

The Grand Afternoon Tea

£85

*Served with a tea of your choice
and a bottle of Moët & Chandon*

Cedric's Teacup

Sharing Cocktail £42

A delicious combination of Hattingley Valley English sparkling wine, Hendrick's gin, rose, vanilla and cranberry. Served pink!

Festive Afternoon Tea

Home House Christmas cake,

almond marzipan

Gingerbread Macaron,

white chocolate ganache

Yoghurt mousse with orange jelly, cardamom biscuit

Chestnut and hazelnut wheel, hazelnut sable, chestnut and milk chocolate cream

Cranberry and pistachio Stollen, dried fruit and nuts, almond paste

Red wine and star anise Choux bun, red wine poached pear

~

Turkey and cranberry on onion bread

Smoked salmon, cream cheese on granary bread

Cucumber, cream cheese on white bread

Egg, wholegrain mustard mayo, dress on white bread

If you have any allergies or intolerances please speak to a member of staff

A discretionary 12.5% service charge will be added to your bill

All prices are inclusive of VAT

Tea Selection

Home House Blend

Coconut, vanilla, camomile and a hint of cinnamon, served with honey

English breakfast

A blend of Assam and Ceylon to create a black tea

Earl Grey

Large leaf Chinese black tea with refreshing citrus notes, silky and smooth with a delightful aroma

Gunpowder Green

Chinese tea with a slightly smoky flavour

Camomile Flowers

A pretty infusion; calming, soothing and delicate with an elegant aroma

Darjeeling First Flush

The Champagne of teas from the Himalayan foothills creating light yellow to copper-red colour and a delicate flowery aroma

Pai Mu Tan

A white tea made from the flowers of the peony

Moroccan Mint

A wonderfully invigorating spearmint tea, caffeine free and stimulating in the morning, a soothing digestif

Assam Leaf

A full bodied black tea from Northern India; the golden leaf yields a strong rich aroma, malty flavour and red colour

Jasmine with Flowers

A green Chinese tea from Fijian, scented with jasmine flowers, offering a wonderfully perfumed light refreshing tea

Lapsang Souchong Imperiale

Large leaf black tea from Fijian, China, which has been smoked over pine fires to give a smoky, silky tarriness.